Dear Paul,

I now have difficulty using the cellar stairs without carrying anything at all.

And the student who had been helping me graduated and is miles away.

With the limited amount of time I can stand at a file eabinet, there is not much searching in or fetching from my own files now possible. For me, that is.

I need for some writing some records I think you will recall. If you can provide copies I'll appreciate that. If not, if you can relate them to specific CIA releases perhaps when someone is here they can blunber into them. But the only expected guests were here for what was this past weekend. I'll enclose that.

One is thet crazy defector analysis, I believe by Derjiabin, in the very earliest days, of what the Soviets were up to, woth the assumption they did the job. About 6, maybe as many as 8 typed pages.

Another is the CIA's proposed questions to be asked of the CIA.

Then the State Department comment on or reaction to those questions.

I recall no other such reaction(s). If you do, I'll appreciate that/them.

Not much new here. When I can I'm getting a fair amount on paper for the future.

And our 51st wedding anniversary is past.

Hopd all is and goes well with all of you.

Thanks and best,

Harold
